Are you in Control of your Inventory?

When your machines break down do you have the spare parts readily available?

Do you require immediate availability of critical spare parts? Do you want a reduction in carrying costs? Rockwell Automation's Parts Management Agreement (PMA) provides ready access to all the spare parts you need, while reducing operating costs associated with your inventory. With the PMA, Rockwell Automation actually owns and manages your spare parts inventory. Critical parts can be held on or off site depending on your needs. The PMA is tailored to fit your needs and is unique to each customer.

Contact Elizabeth Creech
